PPR News

September 2023

Precision Parts and Remanufacturing

"PPR is committed to consistently deliver high quality remanufactured products, on time, and accurately, through a team dedicated to continual improvement."

PWO-Production Work Order

The Production Work Order authorizes the development of a product and process-it provides the production team with a method to create the product to meet the specifications of customer satisfaction and customer demand it is. The purpose of a PWO is to initiate, manage, and evaluate job performance.

- LEARN THE PARTS OF THE PWO
- LEARN WHAT INFORMATION IS PRESENT ON THE PWO
- LEARN THAT THE PWO MUST ALWAYS BE READ AND FOLLOWED
- LEARN TO ASK QUESTIONS WHEN THERE IS SOMETHING ON THE PWO THAT YOU DO NOT UNDERSTAND

The PWO is a very important document at PPR, to achieve high quality work each employee must read and understand what is expected before starting any process.
If you know WHAT and WHY, you can correctly build high quality components/units.

Employees will be able to identify what is on the PWO, what part numbers and lot numbers are you working on, all mandatory parts, verify the last department that signed off on the paperwork before you start working on the process

Favorite Game Day Snacks

Pigs in a Blanket
Jalapeno Poppers
Brats/Hot dogs
Wings
Nachos
Sliders
Meatballs
Pizza
Veggie Tray
Sub Sandwiches

Richard Moore 5 years
Lila Angel 4 years
David Harris 2 years
Socorro Zaldivar Flores 1 year

Current Hours
6:00am-2:30pm Monday-Friday

All employees are to be in their production area on time daily. If you are going to be absent or late you must contact the HR Hotline prior to your shift, texting a coworker or supervisor is not acceptable.

405-681-2592 Ext 333

All employees must return back to their production area on time from breaks and lunch.

If you are late you must enter through the front office door.

Dan Brooks 21st
Victor Huff 12th
Eddie Maze 2nd
Dung Pham 24th
Trung Nguyen 7th
Johnny Casteneda 10th

